

Generally Fair Weather Prevails Throughout U.S.

Spring arrived officially today (at 6:13:22 a. m. Salem time) and the nation had a fresh, warm welcome for the first season of the year.

Generally fair weather prevailed over virtually the entire country, the U. S. Weather bureau reported. However, cloudy weather and light snow covered an area comprising Wisconsin and Illinois eastward into Ohio. Temperatures generally were moderate and near or slightly below the seasonal normal.

Snow fell in Salem although the mercury hovered at a warm 35 degrees. The low last night was 25. The high here a year ago today was 62. But the departing winter will be remembered in many sections of the country as generally disagreeable.

It started off mildly enough, with almost balmy weather in December, except for a frigid spell between Christmas and New Year's day. In January things go to freakish that much of the nation was uncertain whether to wear earmuffs or straw hats.

There was an end-of-January storm that brought snow, hail, thunder and lightning to the Midwest. February wasn't much better. New England and northern New York communities were isolated for days in heavy snow storms that made roads impassable. Several deaths were attributed to exposure or over-exertion, and the east just got a good start digging out of one blizzard when another came along.

Southern Wisconsin had its worst storm in more than 20 years. Drifts up to six feet clogged Milwaukee streets, and tied up business for several days.

Winter dodgers who went to balmy Florida got nipped by Jack Frost.

INCOME TAX REDUCTION BILL GOES TO HOUSE

Conciliation Service Head Refused Pay By House Group

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 21.—The house appropriations committee voted today to knock the financial props from under the United States Conciliation Service by refusing pay for Director Edgar L. Warren and a number of top aides.

Climaxing a long feud between Warren and Rep. Keefe (R-Wis.), the action highlighted a $1,685,586-750 bill to finance the Labor department and the federal security agency for the year starting July 1. The measure will be debated in the house next week.

Keefe is chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the bill. He has accused Warren of having been affiliated in the past with Communist-inspired fronts" and of having advocated the right of government workers to strike.

The conciliation chief denied knowledge of any Communist sponsorship of the groups when he joined them and told the committee he has changed his mind about the right of federal workers to strike.

NLRB Also Affected

In addition to its blow to the conciliation service, which provides federal mediators in labor disputes, the committee also cut by nearly 50 per cent the money President Truman asked for the National Labor Relations board.

In granting the NLRB only $4,033,700 of the $7,984,000 requested, the committee said it was split over a suggestion that the board be abolished because it "has made no real contribution to industrial peace."

The NLRB administers the Wagner collective bargaining act. While carrying $366,170,277 more than comparable appropriations for the current year, the total of today's bill is $77,825,520—or less than five per cent—below Mr. Truman's budget estimates.

However, except for one large item, the funds recommended for next year generally are below those allotted for this year. The outstanding exception is an increase of $389,170,277 in the railroad retirement board fund, an uncontrollable allotment that does not come out of general revenues.

Aid Cancer Research
Another exception is the $17,328,200 granted to the national cancer institute, an increase of $6,000,000 over budget estimates to allow for more aid to states and more research work.

The labor department's share of the total is $90,864,200, a cut of $12,714,500 from budget figures and $22,816,091 from this year's allotments. The total includes $71,728,000 for grants to state for public employment offices. It also includes the $2,080,000 allotted to the conciliation service, a $598,400 drop from the budget request.

The Federal Security agency received $899,045,180, a budget cut of $61,123,420 and a reduction of $132,932 from current funds. Along with the NLRB fund, the bill also carries $850,700 for the national mediation board, which handles railroad labor problems, a cut of $37,300 below the budget, and $690,733,000 for the railroad retirement board.

3 Truck Drivers Draw Fines For Overloading

Three out-of-state truck drivers were fined Thursday for overloading, the state patrol reported today.

Harold Daum, 23, of Lacon, Ill., and Constantine Levas, 25, of Molone, N. Y., were fined $10 and $20 by Justice Earl Spalding of East Palestine. They were arrested on Route 14.

Wade Bailey, 28, of Fair Oaks, Pa., was arrested on Route 46 and fined $10 and costs by Mayor Hugh Dickson of Canfield.

Next Year To Be Industrial Output High, USES Declares

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—United States Employment Service predicts that the 12 months beginning July 1 will bring a new peacetime high in industrial output and national income.

The picture was presented by Robert C. Goodwin, director of the United States Employment Service, in testimony before the house appropriations committee made public today.

Goodwin said the employment service nevertheless expects a "heavy work load" stemming chiefly from continued reconversion and the task of finding jobs for veterans.

Of the veterans, he had this to say:

1. "Although most veterans will be employed, we may expect that roughly a million will be in the labor market and unemployed at the beginning of the period."

2. "Approximately another million veterans will be in school, many of whom will enter the labor market during the next fiscal year."

3. "With the fluctuation in the demand for labor among the various segments of the labor market, veterans—along with other workers—will become involuntarily unemployed and will turn to the employment service for help in finding new jobs."

4. "A large number of veterans who have found employment have done so by exercising their reemployment rights to old jobs, or by accepting jobs definitely below their skill or in jobs which offer only limited opportunities for advancement. Many of this group will seek new employment."

One of them, Don Frohner, 16, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair for the slaying of William C. Spieth, 52, who was black-jacked and shot to death when he resisted attempts of the two youths to steal his automobile.

The other prisoner, Arthur Chapman, 16, has been sentenced to a life term.

Neither youth would comment as they entered the prison.

Frohner, scheduled to die June 10, joined seven other convicts in "death row." If put to death, he will become the youngest prisoner to pay the supreme penalty in Ohio in more than two decades.

Chapman was sent to the prison isolation ward for a week or two of examinations and a blood test.

Plans For Democratic Germany Started By Marshall, Bevin

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW, March 21.—U. S. Secretary Marshall called on the council of foreign ministers today to set plans for the creation of a German government in motion at once and both he and Britain's Ernest Bevin presented programs for the organization of a federalized German nation.

The council, in a brief session, agreed to invite representatives of the Austrian government here immediately for discussion of the Austrian peace treaty.

V. M. Molotov, Soviet foreign minister, said he already had assured Foreign Minister Karl Gruber, of Austria, that visas would be issued for the Austrians assigned to come to Moscow.

Hope to Draft Treaty

The action on Austria came after Marshall had urged the council to break the Austrian treaty impasse on what constitutes German assets in that country and had expressed hope that the treaty would be completed in the Moscow meeting.

He said that it was for this purpose—completing the treaty—that the Austrian government representatives should be called into consultation.

Bevin laid before the council a six-step plan for the creation of a federalized government structure intended to make Germany a self-governing, democratic state.

Britain's views on the government structure for Germany were set forth in a 600-word paper.

It called for creation of a two-house legislature along the lines of the U. S. senate and house of representatives, a president without executive powers and strong state rights.

Bevin was the first of the four ministers here to place his ideas on the structure of the German state before the council.

Informants said the British plan envisioned a lower legislative chamber elected according to population and an upper chamber elected on the basis of a fixed number of representatives from each of the lander (states).

3-Point Program

Marshall laid down a three-point plan of procedure for setting up a German government.

First, he said, there should be "establishment of a provisional German government composed of the heads of the governments of the now existing states and landers, including Berlin, and clothed with necessary powers to create and operate central administrative agencies."

To this end, he said, the lender or state governments should be completed "throughout Germany at an early date."

Second, Marshall called for "a drafting and acceptance of a constitution which shall be German in origin and which shall be consistent with democratic principles and the decentralization of government authority." All powers not assigned the central government would remain in the state governments.

Third, Marshall said, there should be the assumption of the governmental authority by the central government created by the constitution and by the state authorities recognized by the constitution.

Two new members were initiated at the meeting. A lunch followed. Installation of the new officers will be held April 3, in conjunction with a lodge dinner.

Total $13,604.10

Salem's Red Cross drive has gone over the top.

Atty Alfred Fitch, chairman, announced Thursday evening that the annual campaign had exceeded the goal with total collections to date amounting to $13,604.10.

The goal of the drive, which began March 3, was $13,160.

Miss Hazel Linn, executive secretary of the Salem Red Cross chapter, said that a check was being mailed today to the American Red Cross for $4,160, its share of the money.

The local chapter will keep $9,000 for local purposes and, in addition, will keep 70 percent of all collected over the goal amount.

Fitch said he expected more returns this week to swell the collections.

Three Are Injured When Autos Crash

Cars driven by David Regal, 71, of Youngstown, and Joseph D. Posey, 22, of Youngstown, sideswiped at 7:45 p. m. Thursday on Route 164, one mile north of Columbiana, with three persons being injured in the collision.

Albert Miles, 23, a passenger in Posey's vehicle, suffered a bruised right knee.

Florence Regal, 71, sustained a lacerated face and a head injury.

The trio was treated at Salem City hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Regal were reported fair today.

School Lunch Program Fees Boosted In County

The Columbiana county board of education announced today that beginning Monday the cost of the school lunch program in the county schools will be increased from 6 to 10 cents, due to the fact that the federal government has not reapportioned funds for the program.

The increases in lunch costs will affect almost all of the rural schools.

DEMS' PLAN FOR DELAY SPURNED

Republican 30-20 Program
Faces Showdown In House Thursday

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 21.—The house ways and means committee today approved, 16 to 9, the Republican-backed bill to slash income taxes by 30 per cent for the small taxpayers and by 20 per cent for most others.

The legislation thus headed for the house floor for a showdown next Thursday. The committee vote virtually followed party lines.

Before approving the measure, the committee rejected, 15 to 10, a motion by Rep. Doughton (D-Minn.) to postpone tax considerations "until we know what our foreign and other commitments will be in connection with recent world developments."

Retrospective To Jan. 1
The tax cut, under the legislation authorized by ways and means Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.), would be effective as of last Jan. 1.

Withholding from wages and salaries under the pay-as-you-go system would be slashed to conform with the tax reduction effective June 1. Taxpayers would get rebates for any overpayments between January and June under the new rates.

The bill provides an overall $3,340,000,000 slash from the present individual tax collections of about $16,000,000,000 annually.

In the committee voting, one Democrat joined 15 Republicans in supporting the legislation. His name was not immediately disclosed.

Knutson predicted the house will approve the legislation by a comfortable margin, although Democrats on the committee organized their ranks for a last ditch battle.

They met with Democratic Floor Leader Sam Rayburn as the Republican controlled committee went into session to approve a bill calling for a 30 per cent slash for small taxpayers and a 20 per cent for most others.

Democrats' View
Rayburn told newsmen following the Democrats' meeting that they "felt the entire matter of tax reduction should be deferred until congress has a better idea of the nation's fiscal situation and how much money will be appropriated."

"That will be the attitude of Democrats in the committee and in the house," he commented.

The Republicans counted on their five-man majority in the committee—made up of 15 Republicans and 10 Democrats—to drive through the income tax cut bill.

As approved by the Republican house steering committee yesterday the bill gives a 30 per cent income tax slash to low-bracket taxpayers and a 20 per cent cut to most others. The original tax-cutting legislation was proposed by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the committee.

The Parent's Responsibility

Dr. Clyde V. Hisong, state director of education, recommends that parents resort to an application of a rod of suitable length and thickness to the prescribed place for the teen-ager who is getting out of hand in the classroom.

It's a time-tested recipe and the fact that Dr. Hisong has to call attention to it is evidence that it hasn't been used enough in recent years.

The current rash of teacher-student-parent disputes is a sign that discipline in the home has become lax. A boorish child at home is a boorish child in the classroom. Teachers who attempt to give the bad actors a lesson in the elements of good behavior find themselves confronted with tantrum-throwing children and angry parents.

Parents who want their children to grow up to be respected members of the community should remember that the home and not the classroom is where they receive their primary training. Teachers acquaint children with learning in its more formalized aspects and, to a certain extent, mold their characters, but the parents who send a spoiled child to school will get a spoiled child back.

The teacher has enough woes without being confronted with the problem of handling the ill-behaved child. It's the parents' responsibility to see that their children go to school with the understanding that conformance to the rules is expected of them as a matter of course, not as an exceptional feat which entitles them to praise and rewards.

Government Is Partisan

Senator Vandenberg is fighting the good fight for bipartisan backing of American foreign policy. His outburst against a proposal by the chairman of the Democratic national committee to the chairman of the Republican committee for endorsing President Truman's position on Greece and Turkey is undoubtedly sincere. So is the outburst of Democratic Senator Connally against the same proposal. Both men say that support must come from the minds and hearts of congressmen, not from party headquarters. Otherwise, their dream of bipartisan support for American foreign policy would be ended.

The truth is that the dream is at best only that—a dream. The government of the United States is not bipartisan. One party runs it, and the other party operates as an opposition. There will be times, such as wars and international negotiations, when the opposition will suspend its obligation to oppose. We have been passing through times like these; the Republicans in large measure suspended their obligation to oppose, and not always with completely happy results.

Foreign policy can no more be dissociated from the other policies of a national administration than the left hand can be dissociated from the right. Democratic administrations have committed the United States to do everything in its power to make the Soviet Union stronger and help Communists in the United States and now are trying to commit the United States to weaken the Soviet Union and purge Communists. Any political party which wants the opposition to forget its partisanship for the sake of unity shouldn't make the mistake of trying to achieve unity on a basis of inconsistency.

All Airplanes Are Obsolete

A spokesman for Army Air Forces who says all but 500 of its 16,000 planes are obsolete is guilty of a kind of foolery which sorely tempts military propagandists.

They are always trying to depict things either better or worse than they are, depending on circumstances. In 1947, they are interested in making it appear that the United States is impotent, because they hope to check too-sudden disarmament. In 1941, they were trying to make it appear that the United States was insuperable, because war was imminent.

This country was far from insuperable in 1941 and it is far from impotent now. As far as airplanes are concerned, every plane now in existence is obsolete, including the 500 which the AAF spokesman claims are not obsolete. But they are obsolete only in relation to planes which have not yet been made, just as every automobile on the highways is obsolete in relation to automobiles being designed for the future. Obsolete is a treacherous word. Spokesmen for the AAF should use it sparingly.

A Tip On Tipping

A legislator in Pennsylvania is annoyed at check-room concessionaires who employ comely numbers to front for them and draw big tips from the customers. The girls are paid straight salaries and turn their tips over to the employers.

The legislator wants a law requiring night club and restaurant proprietors to post explanatory signs when their checkrooms are operated on a concessionaire basis.

Research has shown that the stronger sex, as it is laughingly called, will plunk down a quarter to ransom its 1938 beaver, instead of a thin dime, if the checkroom attendant is graciously endowed and knows how to turn on a smile.

This proposed law might be considered an extension of the statute requiring the truthful labeling of merchandise, but it will not generally cut down the size of tips, males being what they are. The only way to do that would be to replace the comely attendants with wizened oldsters or beardless boys.

Penicillin Helpful In Treating Eye Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY of the germs which cause external eye infections can be stopped by the use of penicillin. This is fortunate indeed because it gives us a quick and sure weapon against many disorders of this important organ.

The most common external eye infections in children are blepharitis which is an inflammation of the edge of the eyelids, conjunctivitis or inflammation of the lining membrane over the eyeball and infections of the tear sac.

It has been shown that the germs most often responsible are staphylococci, pneumococci, and the Morax-Axenfeld bacillus. In most cases staphylococci are the chief offenders.

Treated With Penicillin

According to Dr. Joseph Minton of England, these various conditions can be successfully treated with penicillin drops or ointment. He has found that blepharitis clears up quickly with penicillin ointment.

However, there is a tendency for it to recur when treatment is stopped. Hence, he suggests that even after the inflammation along the edge of the lids has cleared, the penicillin ointment be applied to the lids as a preventive twice a week for several weeks.

He has also found that conjunctivitis in infants and children clears up within a few days when treated with penicillin. He suggests that the parent be given a solution of penicillin in a bottle with a fitted dropper. The penicillin drops are put into the eye four times a day.

In tear sac infections penicillin drops also were used. In most cases this cleared up the eye inflammation and the discharge from the tear sac within a week's treatment.

In many cases the eye continued to water even after the penicillin treatment. If this continued for three weeks it was necessary to pass a tiny instrument known as a probe into the tear sac. This, as a rule, resulted in a cure of the condition.

The same sort of treatment was successful for blepharitis and conjunctivitis in adults. It was noted in some cases that redness and swelling of the skin of the lids occurred in some of the patients who used the penicillin eye drops and ointment.

This was found to be due to sensitivity or allergy to the penicillin and cleared up promptly when the use of the penicillin was discontinued.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Mrs. Helen Martini Runs A Unique Nursery For Wild Animals

BY BERT BRANDT
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK.—Lightning stabbed through the night and momentarily lighted the cages in the darkened lion house of the Bronx Zoo.

The thunder that followed sent three tiny tiger cubs scurrying into a corner for mutual protection from the awesome sounds they'd never heard before. Fear shone in their eyes as they began instinctively to hiss, then whimper.

A key turned in the barred door and a woman's figure, cloaked against the storm, slipped quietly into the cage and gathered the frightened cubs into her arms. The whimpering stopped and in a few minutes they were purring like kittens.

Mrs. Helen Martini took off her coat, made herself as comfortable as the floor of a tiger cage would permit, and rode out the storm with her three tiny charges cuddled on her lap.

This was the dramatic beginning a few years ago, of the wild animal nursery at New York's Bronx Zoo, only nursery of its kind in the country. When a Royal Bengal Tigress gave birth to three cubs in 1944, Mrs. Martini, who had successfully raised a lion cub two years before, got the nursery job and put it on a permanent basis.

No newcomer to the animal business, Mrs. Martini is the wife of one of the zoo keepers and is herself a keeper of the birds. She finds her baby animal kingdom a round-the-clock job.

The tiger cubs, her first charges, had to be fed every three hours, and in order to get any sleep herself she took them home with her at night. When the cubs began growing, the neighbors began complaining, and while Mrs. Martini couldn't see anything wrong about three 300-pound tigers coming home for dinner, she finally had to leave them at the zoo.

Now the nursery houses several

In her baby animal kingdom at the Bronx Zoo in New York, Mrs. Helen Martini stirs up supper for baby, while baby, in this case a ring-tailed lemur, looks over her shoulder. Baby below is a marmoset, pondering a forest of empty formula bottles while clutching a lollipop.

Besides the universal nursery know-how of heating a bottle of milk, Mrs. Martini had to learn a variety of animal menus, including mealworms, peanuts, dehydrated peaches, sunflower seeds, to say nothing of bananas, meat and fish.

Both Mrs. Martini and her husband spend most of their evenings in the nursery, working with the animals and decorating the cages. They find that animal babies seem to enjoy pictures of Goldilocks and similar characters just as much as other babies.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT

If you want to go through the middle years without having the term "middle-aged" frequently used to describe you, here's a list of ten "don'ts" for you to follow:

Don't let your waist get thick, your neck hunch forward, your walk lose its springy lightness.

Don't make the mistake of thinking you can make drab, unimaginative clothes seem young and bright simply by wearing a silly hat.

Don't talk too much about your household problems, your children, your pet pees, your health, your lack of money.

Don't become a "club woman." Don't stop studying your mirror frequently to try to figure out ways of making the most of what the years have given you—or what they have left you.

WATCH YOUR GOSSIP
Don't shy away from active sports. Don't gossip maliciously. Limit your gossiping to the kind that is amusing and harmless.

Don't read just to pass time. Read to learn and understand. Don't limit your social life to any particular "crowd," and don't "play bridge with the girls" more than once a month.

A Boston dermatologist claims he can usually guess a person's job by looking at his skin. Our skin may give us away to a dermatologist, but our eyes give us away to almost everybody.

A far-away look in her eyes betrays the woman who is listening with only part of her mind, even though she manages to say, "You don't mean it" and "What a pity," at the right moment.

A glance at his watch betrays the bored guest, even though he puts a smile on his face and pretends to be interested in the conversation.

The cold, calculating look one woman bestows on another says: "She is better dressed than I am."

MIRROR COMPETITION
Take a woman who studies her reflection in her compact mirror with more concentration and interest than she directs toward her escort. This should be an indication to him that she'll always be more interested in herself and the impression she makes than in others.

The eyes that don't light up when the mouth smiles show there is no warmth behind pretended friendliness.

Our eyes give us all away.

Harris Class Plans Dinner On Monday

COLUMBIANA

Preceding their meeting Tuesday evening, members of city council viewed the new street in the south part of town from S. Main st. to Fairfield ave., which Andrew Bretz plans to complete and build some houses, and decided that the municipality is obligated to help restore the street to its condition when it was accepted nearly 20 years ago.

Council is considering a special tax levy two mills for three years to tide over Firestone Recreational park. Of $4,500 allotted for the park and cemetery for the year by the county budgeting authorities at Lisbon, $2,100 has already been expended, but the receipts, especially of the park during the summer season, will amount to substantial sums.

Household Hints

If fresh citrus fruits must be squeezed before the juice is needed, put it in a covered container immediately. Store the juice in the refrigerator until serving time.

When making mashed potatoes, add hot milk and melted butter to keep the spuds from cooling.

hundred prizes went to Mrs. Henry Dermotta, Mrs. Wilbert DeJone, Jr., Mrs. Russell Smith and Mrs. Calvin Sell of Salem. On April 2 they will meet in the home of Mrs. Henry Dermotta.

Accuses Taft

Walter Generazzo, president of the American Watchmakers Union, is pictured as he charged before the House labor committee that Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, used his high position to encourage importation of Swiss watches because of his own and family connections with an importing firm.

Columbiana Club Will Honor Cage Team On April 16

COLUMBIANA, March 21 — Columbiana Booster club members held a special meeting Wednesday evening to complete arrangements for the annual banquet to be tendered the Columbiana Clippers basketball squad Wednesday evening, April 16, in pavilion 4, Firestone park.

Dr. H. C. Carlson, head basketball coach of University of Pittsburgh, will speak.

Roy Bilger is directing the sale of tickets for the banquet.

The club sent telegrams of best wishes to the two Columbiana county teams competing at Columbus, the Class A team from East Liverpool as well as the Class B Clippers from Columbiana.

Carnegie Class Meet

The former Dale Carnegie class in public speaking and human relations met Wednesday evening in city hall to further its plans for a permanent organization, Ralph Hall, Robert Culp and Edward Pritch, committee on constitution and by-laws, submitted their report, the provisions of which were given their first reading and discussed.

The class, which numbers about 50 members, will meet again at the same place Wednesday evening, April 2, when a constitution and by-laws will be adopted and officers elected.

Girl Scout Awards Made

A court of awards was held at a meeting of the Girl Scout troop in the Legion home Wednesday evening. Twelve girls received the second class rank, and three received tenderfoot pins. Mrs. J. Richie Hepburn is the troop leader.

The Girl Scout mothers are sponsoring a benefit card party at the Legion home next Wednesday evening. Proceeds will go to the fund for sending the scouts to camp next summer.

Choir To Sing

The Mount Union college a cappella choir of 65 mixed voices will sing in the Columbiana Methodist church Sunday evening at 8.

Richard Gentry conducts the choir. There will be no admission charge.

At 10:45 a. m. in this church, Rev. Dr. Paul L. Carter of Steubenville, superintendent of Steubenville district, will preach. He will preside at the quarterly conference at 2:30 in the afternoon.

WEATHER

Even Miami shivered in sub-freezing temperatures more than once. The South had tornadoes and floods.

But, because of winter's mild start, things weren't really so bad in the final analysis, the U. S. Weather bureau statistics disclosed.

Spring arrived officially when the sun crossed the Equator into the Northern Hemisphere, where it will stay until the coming of autumn in September.

New Garden Methodist Church Is Organized

Dr. James A. Scott, pastor of the Methodist church, will conduct services at 8 p. m. Sunday at the New Garden Methodist church, which was recently organized.

The New Garden church has been given a pulpit bible by the Salem church.

The church is holding a series of guest preacher services each Sunday evening.

OBITUARY

F. GENE SAFFELL

F. Gene Saffell, 28, of North Georgetown, died at his home at 6:45 p. m. Thursday following an extended illness.

Born Feb. 8, 1919, he was the son of Frank and Lena Saffell. He was born and reared in North Georgetown.

He was a member of the Georgetown Emmanuel Lutheran church. Surviving are his parents; a sister, Ruth Ann, at home; and his grandfather, E. G. Saffell, also at home.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the church, in charge of Rev. Charles F. Frank. Burial will be in the Georgetown cemetery.

Friends may call at the Stark Memorial Saturday evening.

P. D. HOWELL

P. D. Howell, 79, a native of Columbiana county, died this morning at his home at 815 Plymouth court, Canton, following a brief illness.

He was born near Salem, but had resided in Canton for 30 years. As a young man he taught in rural schools in Columbiana county.

He was a farmer for several years and then moved to Alliance, where he lived for 26 years. He was chief of police in Alliance for 10 years. He retired in 1938 after 16 years as a Stark county detective.

He also served as a jury commissioner and court bailiff and as a director of the Alliance Clay Products Co.

He was a member of the First Christian church of Canton. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. C. A. Lee, and one granddaughter of Canton.

Funeral service will be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday in the Schneberger and Son funeral home in Canton, in charge of Rev. P. H. Welshimer. Burial will be in the Alliance cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday at the funeral home.

MRS. JOHN R. CROOK

Mrs. Mary Crook, 61, of East Fairfield, died at 11:55 p. m. Wednesday at her home, following a long illness.

Born in Darlington, Pa., Jan. 29,

1886, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Bable. She was married to John R. Crook, who died in 1945.

The couple operated a store in Fairfield for several years. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are two sons, Kenneth T. of Beaver, Pa. and Glenn E. of Fairfield; a brother, Lawrence Babel of Columbiana; and a sister, Mrs. Grace Miller of Montana.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the church, in charge of Rev. Charles Richardson. Burial will be in the East Fairfield cemetery.

Friends may call anytime at the family home.

Hanged Accidentally

PEEBLES, March 21—Accidental hanging of 14-year-old Lemmi Day, whose neck caught in a pony harness, was reported today by Dr. E. T. Gibboney, Adams county coroner. Dr. Gibboney said Lemmi was standing on a pile of corn yesterday, apparently slipped and was caught in the harness.

PLAYS ONE-MAN CONTROL OF OHIO CO-OPERATIVES

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 21 — The newly-appointed assistant to the state director of agriculture today attacked what he said was one-man control of Ohio farm cooperatives by Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau.

In testimony before the senate agricultural committee, Edwin J. Bath likewise fired at Lincoln's purported close alignment with CIO interests.

"Organically and fundamentally," Bath declared, "there is nothing wrong with farm cooperatives. One-man leadership and one-man control is what I object to."

"That prevails in the organization that I have served so long. If it doesn't prevail, the tendency is there."

Bath, lobbyist for the farm bureau for 18 years, appeared before the committee in defense of his appointment as an $8,000 assistant to State Agriculture Director Frank N. Farnsworth.

Explains Objection

Turning to the alignment of cooperatives with labor, Bath asserted: "I object to the tie-up with labor which is responsible for the whole economic life which we have today; a situation where we see them going down the street arm-in-arm and saying 'we will decide the matter at the ballot box.'"

Bath, in referring to an assertion he subscribed to the philosophy of Lincoln, said:

"I am not going to pass judgment on Murray D. Lincoln or whether there is any Communism within the Farm Bureau, or that Lincoln is connected with Communism. I do not only bring that philosophy to the department, but I am opposed to it."

Of his resignation from the Farm Bureau, the assistant director declared it was a "question of continuing to the last out or to rebel."

"I was determined to rebel because it was futile to attempt a change from within."

Bath denied allegations his previous connections with cooperatives would influence his work in the state department of agriculture.

"I don't want the cooperatives to have any advantage over the non-cooperatives," he said. "The cooperatives should be ashamed to take advantage of the tax benefit, for they should pay the same franchise tax as other corporations."

"The cooperatives so far as I am concerned will have the same advantages as any other concern in matters coming before the department."

Gets 1 to 20 Years On Assault Charge

LISBON, March 21 — Richard Monroe, of East Liverpool, was sentenced to a term of not less than one year nor more than 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary when he faced Judge Joel H. Sharp in common pleas court Thursday afternoon.

Monroe, arrested almost one year ago in April on a charge of criminal assault upon a 13-year-old girl, was recently returned from the Lima State hospital where he underwent examinations by the state psychiatrist following his conviction last December by a jury.

Miles Peruchetti, 22, of Lisbon, who also was returned from the Lima institution, following his plea of guilty in the court here to a charge of assault with intent to rape, was again ordered committed to the institution until such time as his mental condition warrants his release. Then he will serve a sentence meted out by the court of from one to 15 years in the penitentiary for the assault charge.

Judge Sharp also sentenced Peruchetti on a former charge of forgery, after declaring the assault charge was a violation of terms of probation in the previous case, and Peruchetti will also serve from one to 20 years in the penitentiary, the sentences to run concurrently.

VENIRE IS DRAWN FOR CIVIL CASES

LISBON, March 21—Fifty persons, whose names were drawn from the jury wheel, will report in common pleas court Tuesday, when an assignment of civil cases will be heard before Judge Frank Cope of Carrollton.

They include:
Salem—Mary Boals, 414 Jennings ave., Anna Heck, 1152 E. State st., and Letha Astry, 1490 E. State st.

Columbiana—Zantha Slagle and Ryan S. Roller.

Leetonia—Florence R. Fire, Morris E. Baker, Deborah S. Ripley and Leslie Morris.
Kensington—Mary Davidson, Betty Davidson and Lawrence Potts, E. A. Fishel and Mrs. Margaret Elton, East Rochester; Vernon Galbreath, Beloit, R. D.; William Hill, East Palestine; Wanda E. Price, North Georgetown; Osborn Shively, Minerva, R. D. 2; Emma D. Faloon, Hanoverton, and Antoinette Bishop, Negley.

Invents Device To Cut Out Radio Commercials

CLEVELAND, March 21—Myron O. Schilling doesn't like radio commercials—and he's done something about it.

The 29-year-old engineer has devised a time-delay relay and some push buttons. It's simply a small electrical clock with a switch. The motor runs a certain number of revolutions and then closes or opens the switch.

As soon as the radio's announcer's voice gets silky soft and he starts to say, "and now a word from our sponsor," Mr. and Mrs. Schilling rushes to the nearest button operating the time-delay device. This cuts off the radio for 60 seconds.

Schilling even plans to do something about the 60-second period of silence.

"I am in the process of connecting my magnetic wire recorder to intercept a moment of soft music in the time ordinarily occupied by the commercial," he disclosed.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, March 21 — The little guy, any little guy trying to get things straight in his head, is having bad days.

Things are popping. He thought he'd get things straight after the war but it's after the war now, and look— No go. Too many things. Take the past week or so. Here he was, minding his own business, and look what happened. Just in a week His head's a jumble.

The four foreign ministers start a pow-wow in Moscow. Up pops Molotov the Russian.

"Hey, boys," he says, "let's you and me talk about China."

They didn't go there to talk about China. They went there to talk about Germany and Austria. But Molotov says "let's talk about China."

Next day up pops Molotov. He says "hey, boys. Let's talk about disarming Germany."

And over here President Truman ambles into the Capitol and fires a shot heard round the world.

He says we have to help the Greeks and Turks. For why? To squash the Communists. Where then? Nobody knows. Does it mean war with the Commies some day maybe? Nobody knows, certainly not the little guy.

The congressmen, some of them, start to grumble. This was a hot potato Mr. Truman left. What were they going to do with it?

The same day in Moscow Bevin, the Britisher, laces into Molotov. He says: "Hey, you. What's all this talk I hear about the Russians taking Germans into the Russian army?"

The little guy wouldn't know where all this was taking him but he could understand this part a bit.

Molotov had been needing Marshall and Bevin. Now they were needing him. Some fun. But when they were going to get down to cases? Diplomats say all this takes time.

The little guy wouldn't know. But up pops Molotov, kicking off again. He says: "We want $10,000,000,000 in war damages from Germany."

And away off in Japan General MacArthur says "Hey, when we going to sign a peace treaty with the Japanese so we can get out of here?"

This is all pretty big stuff. The little guy knows it. It's running away from him. And up in New York 80,000 Irishmen parade in a big wind in honor of St. Patrick who wasn't Irish but British.

And while all this is going on, and while we're talking of arming the Greeks so they can fight their own Communists, up rises Senator Tydings, the Maryland Democrat, and he says:

"Hey, let's all disarm. Let's call the roll of all the nations and find out who wants to disarm."

So the little guy, running over all these things in his head, says he thinks the pieces don't fit, but he wouldn't know, being only a little guy.

But he's an optimistic little guy. He thinks if maybe he lives long enough all these things will fit together and

THE CANADIAN ARMY SETS UP 'OPERATION IGLOO'

ONLY THE TOPS OF TENTS AND IGLOOS are visible at the experimental station of the Canadian Army Signal Corps near Churchill. Soviet observers were invited to visit the station after charging a large base was being built there. (International) come out right. Live how long? Oh, he didn't know. Not one lifetime, surely. Maybe two. Maybe a hundred years, a thousand, a million? He couldn't even guess.

Then he grew sad. He thought: "Maybe if I lived one million years all these things would be straightened out but—then there'd be more things coming up. Bound to be."

Look at Your Buick —everybody else does!

Mighty fine car you've got there, sir! Mighty good-looking too—probably draws admiring glances everywhere you go.

Are you keeping it smart and handsome and shining as it should be?

A big step in the right direction is Porcelainizing. It's the latest in car polishing—a power-buffed finish that glazes the paint to a smooth glistening luster—burnishing and polishing the surface until it becomes slick and smooth enough to prevent the ready accumulation of road grime and dirt.

Buick engineers recommend it. Also the procedure our men follow. Try it—to keep a new car lustrous longer—and give older ones a new lease on good looks.

Reports of Meetings and Special Events of Interest to Farm Folk

Perry

Perry grange met Wednesday evening when four applications for membership were received.

The group voted to send a note, urging repeal of the daylight saving ordinance, to Salem city council.

Announcement was made of a molasses cookie baking project contest for the next meeting, April 2.

Miss Clara Stewart was appointed to replace Mrs. Otella Bush on the flower committee. Mrs. Lester Newhouse, Miss Paye Hilliard and Miss Mae Wolford were appointed on the social committee for six months.

The program consisted of group singing, a story by Mrs. Luther Stewart, "A Boy and A Dog," poem by Donna Jean Newhouse; guitar selections by Tyrus Swartz; and a play, "Wildcat Willie," staged by

The cast included Robert Ray, Clifford Swartz, Alice Greier, and Jean, Rosalie, and Joseph Hrovatic. The four new candidate applicants will be obligated in the second degree by a Goshen grange team at the next meeting.

To Tell Marshall of Russian Patent Thefts

WASHINGTON, March 21—Rep J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.), said today he will arm Secretary of State Marshall in Moscow with "additional proof" that Russia has obtained thousands of valuable German patents from America.

Thomas told a reporter the evidence is from the files of the house committee on un-American activities, of which he is chairman.

Juvenile Delinquents 'Graduate' In Crime

WASHINGTON, March 21.—J. Edgar Hoover, reporting a new 10-year crime record for 1946, said today that wartime juvenile delinquents are "graduating from petty thieves to armed robbers and into the field of more serious crimes."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation director said the 645,431 arrests records received last year represent a 7.6 per cent increase in crime throughout the nation over 1945.

Flashes Of Life

(By Associated Press)

HUNTINGTON, W. V., March 21.—For the second straight day, a hen named "Junior" hopped into bed with Albert Cremeans this morning and laid an egg.

"From now on," said Cremeans, "Junior gets locked out of the house altogether."

He explained that the hen—mistaken for a rooster in chickhood—scratches at the kitchen door almost every morning. When admitted, she heads for the basement and lays an egg.

Yesterday she scrambled the routine by climbing the stairs to the second floor and laying in tile bed.

CINCINNATI—Horse, too, have their housing problems.

A major Cincinnati dairy, the French-Bauer Co., says it will completely convert to motorized delivery service by July 1 because it must dispose of 86 horses which pull its wagons.

The reason: Owners of the barn where the animals are sheltered have decided to rent the space to someone else.

SALEM, Ill.—By a court order, the Marion county's courtroom jury "box"—always an open affair on a platform—shall have a railing and a curtain fronting it, thus limiting the view of the jurors. Judge James McMackin, explaining his order, said that when the jury box was built women did not serve on juries "and now they do." He added: "Well, the reason should be apparent to anyone."

WELLSLEY, Mass.—Next time candidates for Wellesley town offices attend a banquet, they're going to insist on a horseshoe-shaped head table.

Following a recent League of Women Voters' dinner, all candidates who faced the voters were elected—and those with their backs to the audience lost.

"HOLD THE PHONE" could well be the advice to Mrs. William H. McCormick, Lock Haven, Pa., as she lets go of the receiver on hearing that her identification of "Mrs. Hush" as Clara Bow Bell will bring her $17,500 in prizes. Her exasperation might be the problem of splitting her radio prizes with her sister and neighbor, who helped her make her selection and with whom she has agreed to share the awards. ## Says Businessmen Support Education

COLUMBUS, March 21—Walton B. Bliss, executive secretary of the Ohio Education association, called today for a protest against what he termed "a disgraceful attempt to picture businessmen, big and little, as enemies of better education."

"The Ohio businessman, whether he happens to be the corner grocer or head of a large factory, has a vital interest in the future of Ohio's schools," Bliss said in a prepared statement.

"But the Ohio Chamber of Commerce and a number of trade associations are attempting to portray him before the legislature as a repulsive, tight-fisted creature who would prefer to see our school go backward instead of forward."

"Businessmen are aware today that many of our schools are on the verge of collapse, that thousands of our children are denied proper educational opportunities, and it is a gross misrepresentation to contend that Ohio business regards good schools as 'needlessly extravagant,'" he stated.

Bliss urged businessmen to "repudiate the stand taken by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce against the Daniels-Cramer school bill," which proposes to increase state aid to schools from nearly $60,000,000 to about $85,000,000 a year.

Hospitality Is A Joint Affair

BY ALICIA HART

HOMES where guests have the most fun and want to return oftenest are those in which the man of the house takes as active a part as his wife in entertaining their friends.

Do you "allow" your husband to play host, or do you take over the role all by yourself?

The question is asked because there are so many wives who think that entertaining is the exclusive domain of the little woman. At best, such women treat their husbands as guests when they give parties; at worst, as pieces of furniture. Lacking other opportunities to dramatize themselves, they give their all to the role of hostess, and are unwilling even for their "leading man" to share the bows.

"What their parties lack, as a result, is the vitality which a male host contributes, and the extra flavor which a man's efforts at hospitality add to the woman's graciousness toward guests and thoughtful concern for the smooth functioning of her household. In defense of the right of a husband to help entertain, it may be said that he DOES enjoy the status of head of the house. He should be allowed to function as such when guests gather under his roof.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

FORT MYERS, Fla.—Ten years ago a delegation of Florida public officials and civic leaders, conscience-stricken at the poverty of the Seminole Indians a century after the ending of armed conflict between the redskins and white settlers, called on the tribal chieftains.

"What can we do to help your distressed people?" they asked.

An interpreter translated the proud and bitter answer of an elderly chief:

"Let us alone!"

These three words symbolized for a hundred years the Seminole desire to be free of any contact with the white invaders who forcefully carted off to Oklahoma all members of the tribe except those who hid out in the everglades.

There are signs, however, in the last decade that the Seminoles are gradually exchanging their lost culture of the forest for the civilization of the restaurant juke box.

Three factors are influencing the Seminoles to change the ancient pattern of their ways:

- (1) The old Orthodox chieftains, who hated white men worse than a Georgia confederate war veteran hates General Sherman, are dying out.
- (2) A conviction is spreading among the young braves that the palefaces are probably here to stay—all except those accidentally drowned while staking out home-building lots bought during the Florida land boom.
- (3) The tribe has grown to 740 members and no longer can kill enough wild game to subsist. It's more profitable to serve as guides for white hunters in quest of the vanishing deer and turkey.

Only one third of the Seminoles live on the 175,000 acres set aside for their use on one state and three federal reservations because the land can't support them all. Needless to say, none of the acreage is on Miami Beach or Palm Beach.

Some of the Seminoles exported to Oklahoma got rich on oil, but the boys who stayed here and fought for their little thatched huts in the everglades don't have much more money than the alligators.

"I know of no Indian in Florida worth as much as $10,000," said K. A. Marmon, superintendent of the Seminole agency.

Marmon believes that the tribe is reaching a turning point in its history, that the Indians will increasingly abandon their old life and become craftsmen, building trades workers, farmers and ranchers.

"All they need is a chance," he said. "They are getting interested in progress as the influence of the old tribal councillors dies out and the old rituals lose their significance."

"We have two schools on the reservations and the older Indians now want the younger ones at least to learn how to read and write."

"Their children are quite intelligent. They like to play the white man's games—softball, baseball and volleyball. Some families own motor cars."

Significant of the new attitude is the conversion of 61-year-old Josie Billie, an interpreter at the conference ten years ago when Indian leaders rejected proffered aid from the white leaders.

"I want to go to school so I can learn to help my people," said Billie recently, as he enrolled in one of the reservation school.

"We got to change. We got to forget about old things."

Feet Have Grown

Women have, on the average, larger feet than their mothers and grandmothers. Size 2½, which was fairly common 40 years ago, is not ticked now, the average size today being 5.

Nickel can be hammered and pressed so thin that it is possible to read through five layers placed a short distance apart.

There's a purpose back of Pontiac!

When you buy a Pontiac you get a car that is deliberately designed and built to give you a certain type of value.

First of all, it is designed to give you fine performance—performance that will give you a thrill every time you take the wheel. This applies to the engine, to the car's roominess and comfort, to its roadability and handling ease. Yet—Pontiac is also designed to give you economy—to operate inexpensively—to be easy on service—and to last a long, long time. In short, Pontiac is designed to give complete satisfaction—at extremely low cost.

This is always true of Pontiac. So regardless of when you expect to get your next car—make it a Pontiac. It's a wonderful value.

THE SOONER YOU PLACE YOUR ORDER for a new Pontiac, the earlier you will get it. So place your order now for future delivery.

FELLER-NEWHOUSE DUELS ARE ASSURED

Southpaw Expert Ready
To Clash With Tribe
Hurler Anytime

LAKELAND, Fla., March 21 — American league fans faced the pleasant prospect today of witnessing several hair-raising hurling duels between the two greatest pitchers in baseball—Hal Newhouse of Detroit and Bob Feller of Cleveland.

This became evident when Newhouse, the game's premier southpaw declared he was prepared to clash with Feller, baseball's number one right-hander, as often as his regular pitching turn called for.

President Bill Veck of Cleveland, never one to overlook a good thing, especially when it means filling the ball park, has already said that he would ask Manager Lou Boudreau to pitch Feller against Newhouse whenever it could be arranged.

The slender curly-haired Newhouse, fully aware of the controversy raging as to who is the better moundman, took exception to stories which charged that he had side-stepped several encounters with Feller last year. They met twice and each emerged with a victory.

"I never ducked a meeting with Feller or with any other great pitcher in my life," said Hal, who in the past three years has won 80 games for the Tigers.

"Only last night I talked it over with O'Neill (Steve O'Neill, manager of the Tigers), and I told him that I would pitch against Feller every game if he gave the word. Steve maps out my pitching program."

It was Newhouse's opinion that even if one were to beat the other six times in a row, it would still be impossible to determine who was the better hurler.

"You would have to consider several angles. For instance, who had the better hitting team behind him. Feller's batting support last year wasn't what one would call robust. He is, by far, the greatest pitcher I have ever seen."

Tennis Best Game For Women, Says Net Star

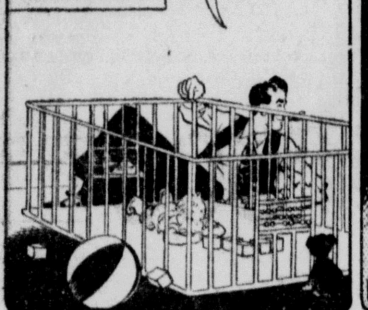

CINCINNATI, March 21—The woman who wants to be athletic, yet still look feminine, should play tennis, Mary Hardwick, internationally known star, said today.

"It is a graceful game, good for the waistline, and does not have a tendency to make one look muscular," she said. "It lets a woman be athletic and still look feminine."

Miss Hardwick was in Cincinnati today to give lectures before high school and college students. She made the statement in an interview.

Mackiewicz To Get Chance With Tribe In Opening Game

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 21.—Big Felix Mackiewicz, former Purdue university football star, probably will be in the starting lineup when the Cleveland Indians open their American league season against the Chicago White Sox in Cleveland stadium April 15.

Manager Lou Boudreau previously announced his opening day lineup but Hank Edwards' shoulder injury has forced a revision of plans and gave Felix his chance.

The husky blond currently is battling over 500 and probably will be assigned to left field.

The Indians returned to major league opposition yesterday after a series of contests with Pacific Coast league clubs and absorbed a 6 to 1 defeat by the White Sox, their opening day opponents.

Ed Lopat gave the Tribe only two hits and an unearned run in five innings while Earl Caldwell, who hurled the last four, granted only two hits.

The Sox hammered Red Embree and Roger Wolff for 11 blows, including a home run by Jack Walldas and a triple by Bob Kennedy.

Middletown, New Knoxville Gain Cage Finals

Findlay, East Liverpool Game Tonight is Toss-up

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, March 21.—Middletown and New Knoxville—two teams with courage in the clutch—are definite starters in Saturday's finals for Ohio's high school basketball championships.

Both displayed that "punch in the punch" attribute of top-flight competitors in yesterday's semi-final Coliseum clashes in the silver anniversary classic of the OHSAA before a total of 7,667 fans.

The Middies, bidding for their third Class A crown in four years, staged one of their patented last-minute rallies to snatch a 36-31 victory over a darkhorse Ashtabula squad.

New Knoxville, with most of its regulars suffering with the aftermath of influenza attacks, sagged in the late going and allowed an inspired Phillipsburg team to overcome a third-period 37-20 handicap and tie it up at 49-49 with less than a minute to go. Then New Knoxville sank the payoff shot for a 51-49 conquest.

That victory, earned mostly through the 31-point scoring splurge of 15-year-old six-foot four-inch Jack Kuck, sent the Rangers into the final round in their first try for state Class B laurels.

Middletown will have as its opponent Saturday night the winner of tonight's clash between Findlay and East Liverpool, and the press box hunch was that either would take the title unless the Middies snap out of the sluggish play they showed last night.

The Rangers, with Kuck hitting from all angles, are regarded as an even choice against either Columbus or Corning, the hot-shot Class B teams which meet this afternoon for the remaining final berth in the smaller school division.

The Findlay-East Liverpool contest is rated a toss-up off the season records, Findlay having lost only two of 23 games, and the Potomac bowing only three times in 25. In the Class B semi-final, Columbus' smooth Clippers with a 23-1 record are given a slight edge over Corning's Railroaders who will present Jerry Jones, a 700-point scorer this season, as their No. 1 threat. The railroaders have won 29 of 36.

Golfers Winding Up Winter Events

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 21.—Golf's winter caravan entered the home stretch today with a field of 150, including most of the Nation's leading linksmen, contesting the eighth annual Greensboro Open, a $10,000, 72-hole event worth $2,000 to the winner.

Favored to emerge the victor after the closing 36-hole grind Sunday was the year's top money winner, dashing Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, California.

Ben Hogan, 1946 money king and runnerup this year, is sitting this one out.

Dark horse candidates included Herman Kiefer of Akron, O., and Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., who is bound for England with the Walker cup squad.

Derby Loses Race For Tulip Season

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Judging by past performance the approximately 18,000 Tulips planted here at Churchill Downs will come and go prior to Derby day, May 3.

If the tulips fade again this year, the greenhouses include approximately 40,000 plants which will replace them.

In addition to the tulips, there are in the track's greenhouses 8,000 each of Geraniums, Red Achyrantes and Dusty Miller; 6,000 Coleus, 4,000 Pink Petunias, 3,000 mixed flowers, and 2,000 Scarlet Sage.

Training Camp Notes

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Manager Charlie Grimm, appraising the Chicago Cubs' National league pennant chances after the early spring training games, gave out with this optimistic statement today:

"If we continue to make runs like we have most of the spring, we'll give the Cardinals and Dodgers a battle right down to the wire."

The Cubs, who have won five straight exhibitions, meet Casey Stengel's Pacific Coast league Oaks at Oakland tonight, with Paul Erickson and Cliff Chambers slated for mound duty.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Tex Hughson, the Boston Red Sox ace, says his pitch is breaking better than ever this spring.

"I always threw that pitch almost at arm's length," Tex explained, "but I got to studying the way Joe Dobson throws his bender, starting almost from the shoulder, and when I tried it that way, it broke off better than before. And that's the way I'm going to do it this year."

TAMPA, Fla. — The Cincinnati Reds, gunning for their third straight exhibition victory, planned to use Bucky Walters and Harry Gumbert against the New York Yankees today. The Reds rapped out a 10-6 triumph over the Detroit Tigers yesterday.

LAKELAND, Fla.—The Detroit Tigers split forces today to meet a pair of exhibition game foes.

One section of the Bengal squad goes to Sarasota to take on the Boston Red Sox, while a second team journeys to Bradenton for a contest with the Louisville Colonels of the American association.

ST PETERSBURG, Fla. — The St. Louis Cardinals were faced with the possibility today of having to open the regular season without George (Whitey) Jurovski, veteran third baseman, who reported his right elbow was painful him to such an extent that he was unable to throw.

HONOLULU—Home runs by Carroll Lockman and Willard Marshall parked the New York Giants to their second straight exhibition victory over the San Francisco Seals tonight, 12 to 6.

Advocate Duck Hunting Holiday For One Year

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The National Audubon society proposed today that hunters quit shooting ducks for one year to give the fowl a chance to restore their ranks by breeding.

"This society has never opposed hunting," said John H. Baker, president of the society, in an article in Audubon magazine. "It does believe in regulation of deliberate take so that there may be no net depletion in breeding stock."

Interest Gains In Legion Junior Baseball Program

It appears that competition will be very keen for a starting position on the Salem American Legion junior baseball team this summer.

Already lined up with two veteran ball players who will act as coaches, the Salem nine will be chosen from a group of some 60 to 80 boys, A. B. Combs, Salem baseball director said today.

The team will be completely outfitted with uniforms, balls and bats, he said. The suits, for the first 15 men on the squad, will be furnished by the Ford Motor Co., which has backed Legion baseball for several years. Additional suits and equipment will be provided by the local Legion post.

Combs urged that boys interested in trying out for the team be sure to attend the baseball meeting in the Legion home at 3 p. m. Sunday. At that time a company representative from Cleveland will be present to check on uniform requirements. In addition, movies

TONY ZALE WINNER IN MEMPHIS BOUT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 21.—A jabbing left, coupled in the final attack with a seldom used right hand, won a fourth-round knockout victory here last night for World Middleweight Champion Tony Zale over Tommy Charles of Indianapolis in a non-title boxing match.

The champion weighed in at 162 and Charles at 167 for the scheduled ten-round bout.

dealing with baseball fundamentals will be shown by Edward Woods of East Palestine, county head of Legion ball.

To be eligible, the players must be under 17. However, if their 17th birthday falls during 1947, they will be permitted to play throughout the season.

The Salem team, which will be able to draw on talented players from such communities as Damascus, Winona and Greenford, will compete with 18 other squads in the district. The nine with the best seasonal record will advance to the state tournament at the close of the season.

Paul Stratton and Harry Vincent have agreed to coach the squad. Stratton will tutor the infielders, and Vincent the pitchers and catchers. Both are well-known in local baseball circles.

The local Legion is determined to make the Salem entry one that the city will be proud of. It is the hope of the backers that the team will measure up to Salem High's football and basketball crews of the past year.

Training and practices will begin in April, with the regular schedule getting under way the following month. Play will continue into September. Games will be played on the new baseball diamond on E. State st., recently constructed by Scott Chisholm.

One of the leading candidates for the Salem team will be Carl Hrovatic, who last year pitched the Lisbon Legion nine into the state finals.
